

St. Croix Foundation For Community Development: A CASE FOR CIVIC LEADERSHIP IN THE U.S. VIRGIN ISLANDS

Nurturing Resilient Communities through Capacity Building

A message from our Board of Directors

Dear Friends:

Over the past three years, St. Croix Foundation for Community Development has single-handedly been spearheading a comprehensive community development project that is building capacity and nurturing innovation in our Community. Through our Nonprofit Consortium, deep impact is already being felt in systemically stressed sectors of our civil society. Through this project, St. Croix Foundation is fostering meaningful support and compiling critical data respective to how to strengthen and sustain local civic organizations. The Foundation is also gaining real insight around the strengths and challenges/ assets and liabilities of operating outdated systems under challenging social and economic conditions. We seek favorable consideration for our work, which we predict will have systemic impact on the resilience of our civic sector and the transformation of our Community.

In the fall of 2017, the US Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, and the Florida Keys were devastated by an unprecedented series of natural disasters. The catastrophic force of two back-to-back Category 5 Super-Storms in ten days not only raises awareness of the implications of a potential new normal in weather patterns, but more directly on the sustainability of America's isolated, underserved Caribbean Communities.

With the impact of Hurricane Irma on St. Thomas and St. John and Hurricane Maria on Puerto Rico taking center stage, the devastation wrought by Maria's Cat 5 winds on St. Croix, the poorest island in the US Caribbean, has been largely overlooked! With the majority of St. Croix still without electricity, 8 of 13 public schools condemned, and the island's only community hospital scheduled to be decommissioned, building philanthropic capacity to support a community in crisis is an imperative. As is often the case in the aftermath of natural disasters, Hurricanes Irma and Maria exacerbated existing social and economic disparities. The nonprofit sector which strives to meet the needs of those most disenfranchised in our community is needed now more than ever, however nonprofit organizations are operating under the constraints of weakened capacity due to the storms.

On behalf of the community we serve, we appreciate your willingness to have a conversation with St. Croix foundation about considering your role in transformational philanthropy on St. Croix.

Warm regards,

St. Croix Foundation for Community Development

Who We Are and What We Do

Since 1990 (more than 27 years ago), St. Croix Foundation for Community Development has served as a catalyst for strategic philanthropic investments within the U.S. Virgin Islands by advancing holistic community development as a pathway to economic prosperity, self-sufficiency and sustainability.

Established in the wake of Hurricane Hugo, today the Foundation is one of the premier place-based philanthropic leaders in the Virgin Islands. Since its inception, the Foundation has been a conduit of over $37 million private and public sector dollars invested into the U.S. Virgin Islands. To date, the Foundation has received national recognition in almost every priority area - from economic development and community revitalization to public health, education reform, and nonprofit development.

A Unique Philanthropic Format: Doing it Differently

St. Croix Foundation is, unequivocally, not a conventional community foundation! Recognizing that problems as complex as ours cannot be solved by traditional philanthropy, we have courageously chosen to function as a hybrid, (operating) foundation, catalyzing change and filling persistent funding gaps. While grantmaking represents only 10% of our operating format, we serve as both a strategic grantmaker, a civic broker, and a direct services provider. It's a progressive, hands-on approach to philanthropy more commonplace in developing countries, but it is increasing becoming an emerging trend in American Philanthropy. Undoubtedly, it is a more appropriate fit for our isolated Community.

PUBLIC SAFETY

Recognizing the direct connection between economic growth and public confidence to public safety, we are dedicating significant focus on this priority to address rising crime in holistic ways.

PUBLIC SERVICE

Having served as the fiscal umbrella for over 220 grassroots and small nonprofits since our inception, we recognize the vital role that civic organizations play in building and sustaining healthy and vibrant communities.

Our 4 Pillars of Socioeconomic

PUBLIC POLICY

With growing clarity about the inextricable link between the health of a Community and the health of its governmental systems, we have shifted focus from programs to policy.

PUBLIC WILL

In our role as a community convener and facilitator, building public will continues to be a critical step in achieving the socioeconomic change we envision.

With a broad field of programming, St. Croix Foundation has, today, identified 4 targeted pillars as the framework within which socioeconomic transformation occurs: Public Safety, Public Service, Public Policy, and Public Will.

These pillars ensure that each priority intersects in order to leverage scarce resources for multiple benefits and foster a holistic and systemic approach to addressing the root causes of some of the most intractable social problems facing the U.S. Virgin Islands.

Why the Foundation is more important than ever before...

Like in the aftermath of a natural disaster and the attendant crises surrounding our inception, five years after the closure of HOVENSA LLC, the Territory is facing some of the most critical social and economic conditions in its history.

St. Croix Foundation is today being called upon to shoulder greater responsibilities in response to the current economic storm. For Donors, however, our format of philanthropy requires a keen understanding of the social and economic realities and the relationships necessary to mobilize stakeholders, identify high impact investments, and aggressively leverage our scarce resources.

CORPORATE SHUT DOWN

LITERACY

IMPRISONMENT

SAFETY

COST OF LIVING

HIGH SCHOOL COMPLETION RATE

UNEMPLOYMENT

Donor Fatigue & Growing Needs

As a result of the economic crisis facing the Territory and as an extension of our commitment to our Civic Sector, the Foundation recently conducted a comprehensive Donor Study, interviewing over 50 of our longstanding supporters. Seeking to assess the capacity and willingness of local Corporate and Individual Donors to support the nonprofit sector, the findings were consistent and unanimous: Donors on St. Croix are fatigued and overwhelmed by the number of solicitations they receive annually as well as by the gravity of our Territory's social and economic needs.

Best estimates indicate that there are upwards of 300 nonprofits on St. Croix alone- far too many to be effectively sustained. After also assessing the needs and challenges of nonprofits, The Foundation's final consensus is that there is growing recognition and acknowledgement that Systemic Change is an imperative in order for our civic sector to survive and thrive.

Donor and Nonprofit Study Findings

Donors are fatigued & contending with growing competition for funding

Donors are eager to see more Innovative Strategies to support the Nonprofit Sector

The lack of accurate & accessible Territorial data compromises Nonprofits' capacity to grow & fundraise

Donors believe that weaker Nonprofits are increasing the financial burden on Government Services

Growing social needs are requiring Nonprofits to do more with less

The lack of funding for Nonprofits = A lack of Civic sustainability

Civic Consortium Agenda: Build Capacity & Resilience

Today, the stark reality for our community is that in the face of unprecedented economic collapse, our nonprofits have taken a significant 'hit' as private donor pools have evaporated, local government funding has dwindled, and social service needs have exploded. As the full force of the Virgin Islands' economic crisis unfolds, St. Croix Foundation is being called upon to shoulder greater responsibilities. We are building a first-of-its-kind Nonprofit Consortium, providing comprehensive organizational development support and nurturing a spirit of collaboration among our partners to ensure deeper impact and financial and operational sustainability.

Professional Development

Develop Nonprofit Boards of Directors and staff to grow operational capacity and ensure greater organizational health, stability, and accountability

Data Collection and Compilation

Building capacity around data collection and compilation to support grantwriting requirements and substantiate funding proposals and programmatic priorities

Case Building

Develop a compelling "Case for Support" for the Foundation and local nonprofits that articulates the intellectual argument for each organization's (and their sector's) WORTH vs. NEED

Collaboration

Conduct long-term strategic planning with nonprofits to assess common missions, and support innovative collaborations that will (and streamline) the landscape of the Civic Sector.

Sustainability

Conduct outreach to national foundations that currently do not recognize the Territory as a funding priority in order to expand professional networks and future funding opportunities for SCF and local nonprofits

Collective Impact

Support Organizations in developing cohesive vision statements for their 'sector' enabling organizations to thrive by leveraging resources, aligning programming and collaborating with other organizations

Next Steps for the Foundation and Consortium Partners: Building Civic Capacity

Over the course of two years, the Nonprofit Consortium will strategically and systematically build capacity within St. Croix's Civic Sector by providing supports beyond fund development. The Foundation will also offer staff and board development, technical grantwriting, and art of hosting training to facilitate strategic conversations, maximize collective impact, and nurture a culture of collaboration and alliance building.

Phase I: Securing the Commitments of Nonprofit Partners and Formal Data Collection Process

During Phase I, NPC partners will be required to sign a formal agreement committing to full participation in the Consortium. The Foundation will also engage Island Analytics, a local data collection and analytics company, to begin collecting and compiling baseline data on nonprofit landscape and sector demographics.

Phase II: Professional Development and Case Making

The second phase of the Project will entail targeted professional and organizational development. Art of hosting training will also be conducted. Determinations will begin on opportunities for operational collaborations and resource leveraging.

Phase III: Sector Collaborations and Fund Development

Sector and Organizational 'Cases for Support' will be developed, and aggressive grantwriting and national funder outreach will be conducted.

Phase IV: Evaluation

Utilizing established evaluation measurement, progress and capacity of St. Croix's Civic Sector and NPC will be assessed.

Supporting St. Croix Foundation Supports the Territory!

"... although we agree your project has merit... St. Croix is not in our geographic location..." ~ Ford Foundation, 2013

"... we are unable to provide funding for your program... funding outside of the United States is limited to programs focused in two micro-regions in Mexico, two micro-regions in Haiti, and Brazil. The foundation remains committed to the southern African region..." ~ Kellogg Foundation, 2013

"Although the RFP is designed to address the unique historical, cultural and political realities for girls of color in the continental Southeast as the first step to our regional approach to supporting a girls' movement, we are still committed to our global work for girls."
NoVo Foundation, 2017

To advance our programmatic agenda, in February of 2017, we hosted 7 Senior Female CEOs from the following Foundations on the mainland including the Southeastern Council of Foundations, Association of Black Foundation Executives, Minnesota Council of Foundations, Southern Education Fund and the Winthrop Rockefeller Foundation. It was and continues to be our goal to introduce more philanthropic leaders to the Territory in order to open currently inaccessible funding streams for our entire civic community, and to relieve local donors from the burden they currently bear.

Today, we ask you to match our investment! There is no other community organization in the Territory whose work goes beyond grantmaking and 'programming' but rather serves to strengthen infrastructure and systems so that programs actually work. In fact, most community foundations are underwritten by large endowments of which only a fraction of the interest goes to support programs. St. Croix Foundation for Community Development redirects all our funding directly back into our community and is working on building real, measurable capacity around targeted priorities that impact the economic and social wellbeing of our entire society.

Now, here's why it matters to you: the stark reality is that despite the fact that the USVI is facing all of the challenges of urban, rural and developing communities, multiplied and magnified times ten, and despite our status as a U.S. Territory, the Virgin Islands is often labeled as either international or irrelevant by national funders, and thus ineligible for national philanthropic dollars.

St. Croix Foundation for Community Development is working diligently to change that! As we seek to identify funding to support our critically important community development programming, we are also working aggressively to open doors of funding opportunities to support our work and the important work of our civic partners. Investing in the Foundation is investing in the future.

Capacity Building: A Transformational Philanthropic Investment

Leading with relationships, the Foundation has supported the first phase of these community-wide philanthropic efforts at no cost to local nonprofit organizations or the local government! We are now engaging Corporate Partners to support this transformational effort as an investment in the health and sustainability of our Community. We believe the return on investment in these progressive Initiatives will be far-reaching, measurable and systemic!
